

What People Are Saying About Collectify

“What I liked best about Collectify was the ability to personalize it to my collecting needs. You can use it on a very simple level or organize your collection on a very deep and sophisticated level. Collectors will find this software easy to use.”

Toni Sikes, CEO and Founder, GUILD.com

“I am not a novice to collection software. My gallery runs on a combined stock and accounting program that I wrote myself, so I have a good working knowledge of database design. I have reviewed all the major products available on the market and have usually come away disappointed. I have yet to find anything as elegantly designed, as intuitive and as sensitively sculpted to the needs of collection management as Collectify. I will be recommending this program with the greatest of enthusiasm to all of our clients. Collectify is a database masterpiece.”

“I once heard Barbara Rose, a notable art critic, speak about collecting. She commented that while moving from her residence of many years to a new apartment, she had decided to make handwritten lists of the many, many things she had accumulated. Barbara discovered she had over 13 unique collections! They ranged from her contemporary paintings to her collection of Kimonos and Bakelite hair combs. She found a certain self-satisfaction in quantifying the diversity of her interests as well as realizing the worth of it all – having it cataloged allowed her to determine it’s value.

It has been about 12 years since hearing Barbara discuss her discoveries and I have wanted to do the same ever since. I am sure I have acquired varied treasures with equal enthusiasm. Collectify, with it’s predetermined, yet flexible, input forms and the reach of the detailed questions asked, has me on the path to full enlightenment! The simple, easy to negotiate layouts, the cataloging and indexing functions, the cross-reference tools, the easy to access insurance and valuation information, the ease of adding digital photos – what depth! What encouragement to catalog! What inspiration to collect more!”

“[Collectify] is an excellent software program used by many collectors whose inventory needs have grown beyond a do-it-yourself system. This easy to use software allows you to catalog, track and share information with others making it easy to get your advisory team the data they need to create an appropriate art succession plan and make sure you have the proper insurance coverage. It was developed according to the Getty Object ID™ Standards (www.object-id.com) and is suitable to manage any type of collection from poker chips and pens, to fine wines and vintage cars.”

“A snap to install and a breeze to use -- the customization features really set it apart from all other collections management products on the market today. Wonderful for the experienced and the novice user alike -- I've never seen a product this complete. The great thing about Collectify is the ease with which you can add your own fields to suit your own collection. Simply the best cataloging software I've ever used.”
